

Year 6 Group Room

It's wonderful to be back to normal, i.e. no more SATs!

In keeping with the topic, the children have been completing application forms to join an expedition with the Royal Geographical Society. They also wrote a supporting statement as to why they thought they would be the right candidate. As well as this they wrote an 'in character' journal entry stating their hopes and fears should they be chosen for the expedition.

After half term we'll be writing our own versions of Jabberwocky by Lewis Carroll as well as some more journal entries.

Have a great half term break!

Kind regards,

Lynn and Tina
