

Dinosaur Museum Friday 12th July

We have been busy again this week making things for the dinosaur museum. We have been putting the finishing touches to our creations and it is looking rather impressive now! We can't wait for you all to see the museum next week!

Home Fun

This week's Home Fun is optional. The children can use junk modelling to create their own dinosaur to display at our museum. This is the last Home Fun. Reading books will continue to be changed until 18th July (as the 19th is our Fun Day).
