BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

The longer Beauty stayed with the Beast, the more she came to understand him and the more she came to understand him, the more she came to like him. So as time passed Beauty found that the place seemed less and less of a prison to her...

Her jobs also seemed less and less tiresome. Indeed she performed each mundane task with such patient love that her life with the beast was no longer a drudge; in fact she loved him and thus the spell was broken!

SEMI COLON;

A PAUSE...

Pause now;
let God speak...

All our miseries derive from not being able to sit in quiet
in a room alone...

Blaise Pascal 1623-1662
