CELEBRATE

12 DANCING PRINCESSES

There was once a handsome young cowherd called Michael. All the village girls loved him but he didn't want to marry them. He was determined to marry a princess for he had a dream in which a beautiful lady told him to go to the Castle where he would find his princess. When he told the villagers they jeered, 'Cowherds don't marry princesses!' But Michael believed his dream and set off to seek his true love.

At the castle the King was worried. His twelve beautiful daughters all slept in the same room which was locked and bolted each night. Yet each morning they came out tired and even more mysteriously, the soles of their dancing shoes were worn out!

'I will solve your mystery if can I choose one of your daughters to marry!' said the cowherd to the King...
