15th November 2013

You should all have received your returned Parent Consultation forms by now. Please let Emily, Hannah or Ruth know if you haven't.

Sound of the Week

The children are focussing on writing in their sound of the week activities this week. Well done to all of those children who are having a go at their activities in their books. If you haven't had a go yet and you're not quite sure what to do please do pop in to chat about it. Please encourage children to write straight into their books rather than writing on pieces of paper. :)

Dear Parents,

We started the week with a fantastic story week. We heard some exciting bear stories and used them as inspiration to act out and create our own imaginative stories. We even created our own sound effects using instruments! See if your child wants to choose a favourite simple story at home and create sound effects to accompany it! We had such a lovely time on our trip yesterday and today. Thanks to all our helpful helpers! Next week is a super science week. Look out next week for more details of what we have been up to.

Emily and Hannah :)

Maths Focus

This week we have been learning about using a number line to solve problems. We learnt to jump in 1s up and down the number line to add and to subtract.

Can you make a number line to 10, 20 or even longer and use it to add and take away?

$$3 + 1 = 4$$
