

Just to let you know...

Dear Parents,
We had a brilliant start to the week with the arrival of John Eagle! He taught us all about life as a Roman soldier and some children dressed up in different types of armour. We all joined in with marching as a legion and we were amazingly quick to learn the Latin instructions for how to turn left, right and a half turn.

This week in maths we have been learning about time and the 24 hour clock. We have looked at train timetables and have thought about why the 24 hour clock is helpful.

In topic, as well as learning from John Eagle, some of us started to make a Roman Bulla— a small pouch that Roman children wore to protect them.

Have a great weekend,
Nick, Emily and Sarah

Spellings this week are a selection of different but challenging words. Please help your child to practise in any creative way that helps them to learn. You could:

Draw colourful spellings changing the colour for each letter.

Make a rainbow of words, writing the word many times in different colours to create a bright display. Cut up the letters in the words and make word jigsaws.

Make 2 sets of the words and play spelling pairs. Make a 'Bananagrams' grid of the interlocking words.

address, medicine, knowledge, probably, favourite, separate

Homework — Time

The homework this week is for your child to complete a few questions about how to convert 12 hour time into 24 hour time. Please help your child to think about the 24 hour clock when you are doing activities at different times of the day this weekend. What time do you go out the park? What time are you going to Tesco?
