

Just to let you know...

Dear Parents,

In English this week we have been writing estate agent brochures to advertise the Roman villas we've designed. We thought carefully about the language we used in order to persuade people to buy the villa. We learnt about all of the different rooms in the villa and how highly decorated they were.

In maths we drew floor plans for our villas using our knowledge of perimeter. We realised that rectangles can look different but in fact have the same perimeter. This meant that, even though all of our dining rooms had to have a perimeter of 32cm, they all looked quite different!

We have also all now finished sewing our Roman bullas - fabric pouches that Roman children used to wear. The children used blanket stitch and also how to sew on a decorative button.

Have a lovely weekend and we hope to see you at tonight's Christmas fair.

The Year 4 team.

Tickets for 'A Christmas Carol' Tickets

Hopefully you have all received an email regarding the sale of tickets for this year's Christmas production, 'A Christmas Carol'. Following the successful trial last year we are using an online booking - Eventbrite. Please check your email for further details.

Spellings

young, touch, trouble, country, blood, does

Please learn these words for next week. Look carefully at how the 'u' sound is spelt in each of them. E.g. in the word young it is spelt with 'ou'.

Head lice

We have had reports of head lice so please check hair carefully and perhaps consider tying up longer hair.

Times Tables

We hope you are all enjoying using Time Tables Rock Stars at home. This week the children need to learn the 9 times table. We have heard some great tips for remembering tricky times tables, so please keep them coming!

Homework

This week we have been learning all about perimeter. For homework, find the perimeter of 5 rectangular objects from around your home and show your work in your homework book. Use photos, drawings or words to tell us about what you found. .
