

Just to let you know...

As an introduction to our Great Expedition the children have applied to be accepted by the Royal Geographical Society. They have explained why they are particularly suited to a certain role on the expedition, choosing either anthropologist/missionary, scientist/inventor or explorer/naturalist. They also wrote about the skills and knowledge they have already acquired. They will find out next week if their applications have been successful!

The children's own LEAPS projects are progressing well; each child is now becoming an expert on different aspects of Victorian life and they are working cooperatively to present their work to others. We have been impressed by diaries, dramas, poetry, fact files and beautiful artwork.

Dear Parents,
At last the sunny weather has arrived; please remember to talk to your children about sensible sun behaviour and send them in with sun protection cream, hats and water bottles.
Next week, we will be learning about our Icelandic Comenius partners on Thursday and don't forget that on Friday the children should wear 1950s mufti as part of our Jubilee celebrations.
Best wishes,
Clare, Julia, Sarah, Mel and Helen

In maths this week we have introduced Victorian currency to the children. At Preston Montford, they will be spending their pocket money at Blists Hill after exchanging it into shillings and pence so they need to be aware of how much things cost!

Group reading as usual next week.
Please continue to read regularly!
