

The Great Exhibition—update

The children have been assigned a city group to work with and have been making exciting plans for their displays at the Great Exhibition. Each member of the team will be making artefacts, maps, models and inventions to display at our end of term exhibition. This will be held on Tuesday the 7th July from 2.30p.m onwards.

COSTUMES

At the exhibition on Tuesday 7th July, we would like all the children to be wearing a Victorian Costume.

Just to let you know...

Next week we will be looking at Lewis Carroll's Jabberwocky and the children will be coming up with their own version hence the rather strange mix of spellings for them to learn and understand!

Spellings

delicious, baleful, bilious, effulgent, execrable, garrulous, crotchety, irksome, unctuous, mordant

HOODIES

Thank you to Lesley and Rebecca for organising these. Your child should have their own hoodie, if they have paid for it.

Dear Parents,
At last the sunny weather has arrived; please remember to talk to your children about sensible sun behaviour and send them in with sun protection cream, hats and water bottles.
Don't forget school will close at 12.15 on Friday 19th June 2015.
Best wishes,
Mary, Sarah, Alison and Helen

What have we been up to?

English: We have been writing our Tom Brown letter/diary and will be sending it home on Friday to be written up neatly in Victorian script. It is to be returned to your class teacher on Monday morning.

Maths: The children have been looking at Colliery data about the Employment of Children from the year 1841. They have displayed their data in a variety of ways including scatter graphs.
